Emergency: get help

Recognising real danger and calling 000 clearly, calmly and early.

#courage

Someone is hurt and no adult is nearby. How do you know it is a 000 emergency — and what do you say first?

You can always pass, write your answer privately, or use a made-up example.

Psalm 46:1

“God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble.”

Psalm 46:1, New International Version (NIV)

CHRISTIAN CONNECTION

God is described as help that is already there in trouble. Asking for help quickly is not weakness or panic — it is part of caring for people, and calling 000 is one real way to do it.

Which of these needs a 000 call right now?

In groups of three or four, read all six situations.

Sort them into CALL 000 NOW and TELL A TRUSTED ADULT, then plan your first sentence.

1 Your bike chain snaps and you will be late getting home.

3 Smoke and flames are coming from a neighbour's kitchen window.

5 A cyclist falls, hits their head and does not wake up.

2 A younger child is missing from the playground and cannot be found.

4 Someone in the pool cannot keep their head above the water.

6 A friend scrapes a knee at the park and it bleeds a little.

Ask of each one: is someone in danger right now, and who can help fastest?
