Listening that helps

Attend, reflect back and ask one question that truly helps.

Which reply shows the friend was really listening?

You can always pass, write your answer privately, or use a made-up example.

James 1:19

“My dear brothers and sisters, take note of this: Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak and slow to become angry.”

James 1:19, New International Version (NIV)

CHRISTIAN CONNECTION

Scripture puts listening before speaking. Being quick to listen is one real way of loving a friend well.

Which replies show listening, and which shut the talking down?

In groups, read all six cards and sort them.

For each card you set aside, write a more helpful reply.

1 Just ignore them.

3 That is nothing – listen to mine.

5 So the plan fell through and you heard about it last?

2 That sounds hard – do you want to tell me more?

4 I am putting my phone down. I am listening – take your time.

6 You sound upset about being left out.

Several replies can work – aim for attentive listening, not quick fixing.

“One way I can listen better is ...and it would help because ...”

Write this one privately — you don't have to share it.

TAKEAWAY

Listening is not fixing. Attend, reflect back, and ask one honest question.
